

THE INTERNATIONAL MARCÉ SOCIETY

Are your interests in: Perinatal Mental Health Research and Development?

- Would you like to be part of a major scientific charity whose main objective is to further the investigation into why mothers become mentally unwell during pregnancy and following childbirth, the effects of mother's mental disorder on the fetus and whose mission is to seek and implement appropriate management strategies for these women and their families?
- Would you like to meet and correspond with researchers who are world leaders in the field of maternal mental health?
- Would you like to be aware of the latest research papers, development programmes or new initiatives? Or, perhaps you have your own ideas about tackling research into perinatal mental health but are unsure how to proceed?
- Whatever your profession, researcher or clinician, because of our multi-disciplinary aspect, you can meet and correspond with researchers who are world leaders in the field of maternal mental health, professionals in the perinatal field, as well as with students.

Log onto www.marcesociety.com and join us! You will see full details of our services and how you can become a member. Please contact us today and become part of a learned and international Society dedicated to mothers and their families.

"The Marcé Society facilitates friendly collaboration between differing cultures, countries, professionals and Service Users worldwide, working to improve the care of mothers and their families." Dr Nine Glangeaud, Past President International Marcé Society (France)

"I benefit from and thoroughly enjoy the conferences" Dr Katherine Wisner, Past President, International Marcé International Society [USA]

"Of all the societies I am involved with, and all the meetings I go to, it's in the Marcé Society I feel most at home" Dr Ian Jones, Past President UK & Ireland Marcé Society (UKIMS)

"The friendship and networking between the disciplines makes the Marcé a unique Society" Dr Jane Hanley, President International Marcé Society [Wales]
